The StonCor Group combines the resources of four leading corrosion control companies in the construction industry. Ninety years of field experience has solidified StonCor's commitment to cutting-edge technology and uncompromising quality. With over 250 employees across Canada and a strong industry reputation, StonCor needed a professional company that could produce their presentation materials and uphold their brand image. ebimage was the right company for the job.

"StonCor required innovation and ebimage provided it" says Larry Eisen, President of ebimage. "We are always pushing the envelope, trying new things and collaborating with our clients to provide one of a kind presentation materials that are valued, creative and memorable."

PROJECT OVERVIEW

StonCor Group reached out to a number of companies for quotes to produce their annual calendars, binders and index tabs but were told by other companies that the printing of the calendars would be too costly. For ebimage, it wasn't an issue. ebimage took care of all StonCor's printing materials by providing a full turnkey solution.

PROJECT SOLUTION

ebimage delivered the materials on-time and ensured StonCor's branding was consistent throughout. The client received prototypes and production samples throughout the project so they could see what materials would be used. It not only helped the client visualize the job but allowed them to make decisions on what they wanted.

"I am very pleased with ebimage's products and customer service. They always deliver on-time and offer many different solutions. If we need to make adjustments to the original concept, they always have a vision" says Dawn Price, Graphic Designer/ Marketing Coordinator at the StonCor Group.

PROJECT RESULTS

StonCor has received very positive feedback from internal staff and their customers. They can be proud of the products they provide to their customers because the calendars and binders are professional, durable and remain consistent with StonCor's branding. "I choose ebimage each time because they are reliable, pay close attention to detail and provide us with quality work" says Dawn Price.
